DEDICATION

This has been a year of change at ENC — a time of further “becoming” and yet a time of solid stabilizing.

We dedicate the 1971 NAUTILUS to you,
because you have shown us the merits
of both change and unchangeability, of both progress and constancy.

This has been a year of work at ENC — a time of unified efforts toward common goals.

We dedicate the 1971 NAUTILUS to you, because you have worked with us and for us every day, in every way.

This has been a year of interaction at ENC — a time of sharing our pleasures and our sorrows, our successes and our failures, our hopes and our fears.

We dedicate the 1971 NAUTILUS to you,
because you have always been eager to share
yourself with us — socially, intellectually, spiritually.

This has been a good year at Eastern Nazarene College, largely because of the much appreciated role you fill among us, and so —

We dedicate the 1971 NAUTILUS to you,
DEAN ROBERT W. HELFRICH.

The opportunity to examine your life and cultivate its potential provides the backdrop for the most exciting discovery imaginable. And in this day of need, in our society, in our world, the call for that search must summon our very best efforts.

Our experience at ENC is not the culmination of this search but rather a stage in its progression. Each year here provides a multitude of rich opportunities to seek out our religious, academic, social and athletic potential, to strive to fulfill that capacity — and then to use it.

It is the story of these opportunities that the NAUTILUS has chosen to tell. We are attempting to review the year as the expression of our search as individuals, teams, societies, organizations, and as a college.

We have chosen the words "to become" to express this message. And to symbolize these words we have chosen the picture of a galaxy — the embodiment of raw potential in the process of developing.

This year we have seen potential fulfilled in many ways. We have seen a soccer team rise to its best team record, a student body work for a new gym, a basketball team capture second place in the country for Christian college, a victory won for ENC at King's, a student body seek a deeper religious commitment, and a meshing of school spirit and enthusiasm as well as a solidarity when we lost a fellow student and friend.

A seasonal approach to this year's book has been used to integrate student and religious life with academic, social and athletic relationships in the way we have lived them. In re-living the year as you turn each page, consider not only the past but also the future — the excitement and challenge of opportunities ever before us, the continuing discovery of life and its social relationships, the depths of our own capacity, and the necessity to live our life at its best. For a better ENC . . . for a better world . . . today is the first day of the rest of our lives.

In Memory

I'll lend you for a little time a child of Mine, He said, for you to love the while she lives and mourn for when she's dead.
It may be six or seven years, or twenty-two or three,
But will you, till I call her back, take care of her for me?
She'll bring her charms to gladden you, and shall her stay be brief
You'll have her lovely memories as solace for your grief.

I cannot promise she will stay, since all from earth return,
But there are lessons down there I want this Person to learn.
I've looked the wide world over in my search for teachers true,
And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes I have selected you.
Nor will you give her all your love, nor think the labor vain,
Nor hate Me when I come to call to take her back again?

I fancied that I heard them say: 'Dear Lord, Thy will be done'.
For all the joy that (Peggy) shall bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter her with tenderness, we'll love her while we may,
And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay;
But shall the angels call for her much sooner than we've planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand.

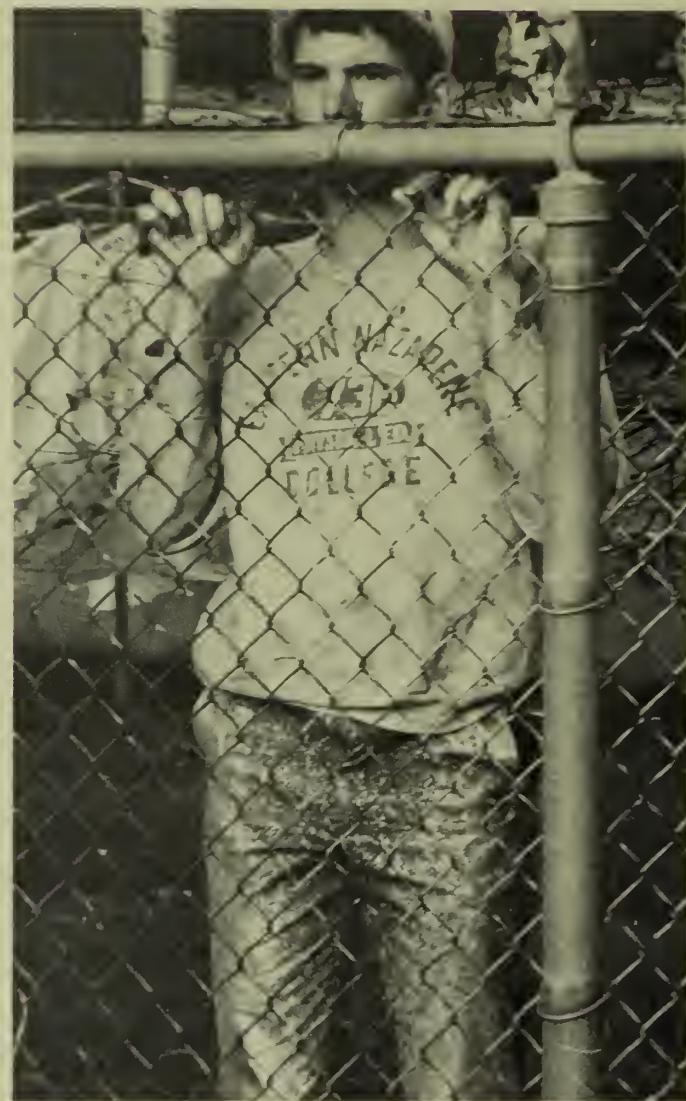

by Edgar Guest

ENC WELCOMES A NEW PRESIDENT

With a new painted face on the president's home on Elm Street, a reorganization of college administration, and the inauguration of an austerity budget, Eastern Nazarene College began her first year with a new president. Dr. Leslie Parrott is the seventh president of E.N.C. He comes to our college from a successful pastorate at First Church of the Nazarene, Portland, Oregon. In addition to his pastoral ministry in Washington, Oregon, and Michigan, he has earned the Ph.D. in Administration of Higher Education at Michigan State University.

President Parrott has spent a busy year visiting churches and assemblies in the E.N.C. educational zone and meeting with trustees concerning plans for the future of the college.

Mrs. Parrott, in addition to traveling and speaking with her husband, has served as his editorial assistant and involved herself with campus activities. The Parrott family also includes three sons, Richard, 18, Roger, 16, and Leslie III, 9.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

The First Year,

... for a new president in E.N.C. must have many things in common with many other freshmen. There is the first tour of the campus ... A look at the rooms ... An introduction to faculty ... the dining room ... chapel ... the maintenance crew ... and Munro Parlor. New customs, traditions, precedents, channels and the hard facts of budget have to be learned; sometimes the hard way. Senior figures like Dean Munro, Dr. Gould, and Miss Cove were a delight. Pastor Wetmore, Greg Larkin, and Merritt Nielson work with a sanctified coordination which makes their Sunday and week-day programs compliment each other. Then there's Professor Babcock and the park-like quality of the campus. The basketball team! And on and on.

I suppose my greatest memory for the year will be the unfolding of my understanding for the E.N.C. heritage and commitments. This is not just another campus. This college is unique in its many dimensions of the quality standard it imposes on students and faculty.

Standing on this threshold between the first and second years the view is good in both directions. Last year was a good beginning. Next year is supposed to be better and I believe it will be. A sophomore president has a year of learning behind him and a new year of hope ahead.

I love my work at E.N.C. and am hoping to be more a part of it in the year to come.

Sincerely your president,
Leslie Parrott

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

WHO'S WHO CRITERIA

Each year an equal number of students and faculty members select those Seniors who best qualify for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The faculty members of this committee are chosen by the Dean of Students, and the student members are chosen by the President of the Student Council. Nominations are made by this committee using the following criteria: scholarship, leadership, participation in academic and extracurricular activities, service to the school, and promise of future successfulness and usefulness to society. From the list of nominees, committee members elect, by ballot, those students who are to be recommended to the National Committee. We congratulate the sixteen students who represent our school in this elite society.
